Hands on Soil Health—Program Overview

Come Walk and Talk with Us (Rain or Shine)

You will not want to miss this great opportunity to network and ask questions

Jamie Patton, Senior Outreach Specialist with Nutrient and Pest Management- UW-Madison/UW-Extension will provide basic soil health concepts and how-to engage them in the field. Concepts such as how to look for compaction, stable aggregates, soil infiltration and more.

Loretta Ortiz-Ribbing, UW-Extension Crops & Soils Area Agent Dodge and Fond du Lac Counties will talk about soil microbes and their importance to soil health, as well as give an overview about how to sign up for the Farmers For Healthy Soil-Healthy Water Cover Crops Incentive Program.

Take this opportunity to walk in the field with us and your fellow farmers, network, and ask questions.
